TAMPA - The Mid-State Music Teachers Association Lois Golding Memorial Teacher Showcase Recital April 26 was "a wonderful opportunity for us, as teachers, to continue performing," said chairwoman Angela Miller.

"The performances were stellar, and hopefully next year there will be more people in the audience to experience them," Miller said.

The opening piece, "Reflets Dans L'Eau" by Claude Debussy, was performed by pianist Theo Boylan of Piano Distributors in Brandon while a changing presentation of impressionist water-scene paintings was projected on a screen behind her.

Ken Hanks played a brilliant piano accompaniment of Cesar Franck's Sonata in A Major for Cello and Piano for cellist Carlos Audi of Brandon.

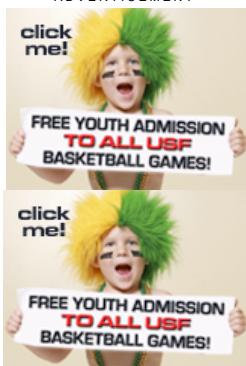

Three familiar pieces were played on individual Clavinovas by an ensemble consisting of Boylan, Hanks, Miller, Betty Chester, Virginia Grissom, Mary Holmes and Sheila Shindorf. Grigorios Zamparas, concert pianist and University of Tampa assistant professor, played on a 9-foot Steinway grand piano with the ensemble.

Greek-born Zamparas stole the show with his 23-minute, memorized rendition of Robert Schumann's Symphonic Etudes, Op. 13.

Proceeds from the event will fund the continuing education of area music teachers.
